

In Illinois, construction contractors are deemed end users of tangible personal property purchased for incorporation into real property. As end users of such tangible personal property, contractors incur Use Tax liability for such purchases based upon the cost price of the tangible personal property. See 86 Ill. Adm. Code 130.1940 and 130.2075. (This is a GIL.)

Dear Xxxxx:

This letter is in response to your letter dated August 17, 2001. The nature of your letter and the information you have provided require that we respond with a General Information Letter, which is designed to provide general information, is not a statement of Department policy and is not binding on the Department. See 2 Ill. Adm. Code 1200.120(b) and (c), which can be found on the Department's website at <http://www.revenue.state.il.us/legalinformation/regs/part1200>.

In your letter, you have stated and made inquiry as follows:

I am writing to request a formal determination letter to determine whether or not AAA is liable for sales tax in the state of Illinois. An explanation of our business follows:

AAA provides property and facility management at retail locations in the state of Illinois. We do not have an office in Illinois, rather STATE; however, we organize and run projects to provide this service to customers in the Illinois area.

The work we do is permanently affixed to real property. This takes on the form of repairing, remodeling, maintaining, improving, and altering. To reiterate,

- We provide capital improvements including materials and labor.
- We provide repairs including materials and labor.
- Additionally, we mark up the subcontractors' charge for services to our customers in Illinois.
- No employees of AAA enter the state of Illinois.
- Subcontractors are hired and paid by AAA to provide these repair and capital improvement services.
- The subcontractors are paying Illinois sales tax to the suppliers of the materials.

Please confirm whether or not we are free of sales tax liability by sending us a formal determination letter.

The Retailers' Occupation Tax Act imposes a tax upon persons engaged in the business of selling tangible personal property at retail. A "sale at retail" is any transfer of the ownership of, or title to, tangible personal property to a purchaser, for use or consumption and not for resale in any form as tangible personal property, for a valuable consideration. See the enclosed copies of 86 Ill. Adm. Code 130.101 and 130.201.

Please find enclosed copies of 86 Ill. Adm. Code 130.1940 and 130.2075 regarding the tax liabilities of contractors in Illinois. The term "construction contractors" includes general contractors, subcontractors, and specialized contractors such as landscape contractors. The term "contractor" means any person or persons who are engaged in the occupation of entering into and performing construction contracts for owners. In Illinois, construction contractors are deemed end users of tangible personal property purchased for incorporation into real property. As end users of such tangible personal property, contractors incur Use Tax liability for such purchases based upon the cost price of the tangible personal property. Therefore, any tangible personal property that general contractors or subcontractors purchase that will be permanently affixed to or incorporated into real property in this State will be subject to Use Tax. If contractors did not pay the Use Tax liability to their suppliers, contractors must self-assess their Use Tax liability and pay it directly to the Department.

Contractors incur Retailers' Occupation Tax upon the sale of items that are not permanently affixed to real estate. However, please note that Section 1 of the Retailers' Occupation Tax Act states that "[c]onstruction contracts for the improvement of real estate consisting of video, security, and all telecommunication systems do not constitute engaging in a business of selling tangible personal property at retail within the meaning of this Act if they are sold at one specified contract price". Consequently, even if some items used in such contracts are not permanently affixed, the liability incurred by the contractor is a Use Tax liability if the provisions of this section are met.

I hope this information is helpful. The Department of Revenue maintains a website, which can be accessed at www.revenue.state.il.us. If you have further questions related to the Illinois sales tax laws, please contact the Department's Taxpayer Information Division at (217) 782-3336.

If you are not under audit and you wish to obtain a binding Private Letter Ruling regarding your factual situation, please submit all of the information set out in items 1 through 8 of Section 1200.110(b).

Very truly yours,

Melanie A. Jarvis
